Dated Tonk Raj the 15th February, 1936.

YOUR HIGHNESS,

I have the honour to remain,

Your Highness' most obedient servant,

Principal Official and Adviser.

Report on the Administration of the Tonk State for the year 1342 Fasli (1934-35).

CHAPTER—1.

GENERAL.

1. The founder of the State was Nawab Amir Khan, an Afghan of the Buner Tribe known as Salarzai. Early in the 17th Century one Taleh Khan left his home in the Buner country and took service in Rohilkhand with Ali Mohammed Khan, a Rohilla of distinction. His son, Hayat Khan, acquired considerable land in the Moradabad district and was the father of Amir Khan. The latter was born in 1758 and when 20 years of age, left his home to carve out a career for himself. He first offered his services to De Boigne, who was recruiting for Sindhia's Army, but De Boigne considered that he was too young and inexperienced and declined to enlist him. For the next ten years he served as a mercenary leader wherever he could find lucrative employment, and in 1798 was advanced to the command of a large army in the service of Jaswant Rao Holkar. He fought with distinction in the campaign against Sindhia and the British, and took no small part in levying the indemnities imposed on Rajputana and Malwa. Holkar appreciated his fighting qualities and, in order to have his services permanently at his command, agreed to share all conquered territories with him. Sironj was accordingly made over to Nawab Amir Khan by Holkar in 1798, and Tonk and Pirawa fell to his share in 1806; Nimbahera was added to his territory in 1839, and Chhabra in 1816. On the entry of the British into Malwa, Nawab Amir Khan made overtures to them, but the conditions he proposed were considered to be extravagant and unacceptable. The British, however, offered to guarantee him all the lands he had been granted by Holkar, on condition that he abandoned the predatory system he had adopted, disbanded his army and surrendered his artillery, with the exception of 40 guns, to the British at a valuation. Nawab Amir-ud-Daula Bahadur agreed to these proposals and they were embodied in a treaty in 1817. To the territories thus granted, i. e., the five parganas already mentioned, the Fort and pargana of Rampura, now known as Aligarh, were added by the British Government and a sum of three lakhs was also given to him to enable him to finance the State. He administered the State till his death in 1834, when he was succeeded by his son, Nawab Wazir Mohammed Khan, Wazir-ud-Daula. Nawab Wazir-ud-Daula did much to consolidate the State, and during the mutiny of 1857 distinguished himself by holding the Tonk Fort with a small garrison against the combined forces of the Nawab of Banda and Tantia Topi. In acknowledgment of his services his salute was raised from 15 to 17 guns, and he received a Sanad guaranteeing the succession of his family, according to Mohammedan Law, in the event of failure of natural heirs. He died in 1864 and was succeeded by his son Nawab Mohammed Ali Khan, who was deposed by the British Government in 1867 and exiled to Benares, where he died in 1895. His eldest son, Nawab Hafiz Mohammed Ibrahim Ali Khan, succeeded him in 1867, ruled the State for, 63 years, and died at the age of 83 on June 23rd 1930. His late Highness, reign witnessed many changes; and as a mark of the respect and esteem in which he was held by the British Government and as a tribute to his loyalty and character he was granted the titles of G. C. S. I. and G. C. I. E. He was succeeded by his eldest surviving son, Nawab Hafiz Mohammed Saadat Ali

Brief
History of Ruling
Family of Tonk.

Khan Bahadur, the present Nawab, who was granted the title of G. C. I. E., on 1st January 1934. His full title is His Highness Said-ud-Daula Wazir-ul-Mulk Nawab Hafiz Sir Mohammed Saadat Ali Khan Bahadur Sowlat-i-Jang, G. C.-I. E.

Situation and area.

2. The Tonk State is situated partly in Rajputana and partly in Central India and consists of six parganas which are separated from each other by distances varying from 20 to 250 miles, a factor which is a not inconsiderable disadvantage so far as administration is concerned. The parganas in Rajputana are Tonk and Aligarh, lying between latitude $25^{\circ} 45'$ and $26^{\circ} 30'$ and longitude $75^{\circ} 30'$ and $76^{\circ} 15'$, bounded on the North, East and West by the Jaipur State, and by the Jaipur and Bundi States on the South; and Nimbahera, a mass of island territory surrounded by and interlaced in Mewar territory, lying between latitude 25° and $24^{\circ} 15'$ and longitude $74^{\circ} 15'$ and 75° . The parganas in Central India are Chhabra, Sironj and Pirawa. The Chhabra pargana lies within latitude $24^{\circ} 30'$ and 25° and longitude $76^{\circ} 30'$ and $77^{\circ} 15'$, and is surrounded by the Gwalior and Kotah States. The Sironj Pargana which is the largest in the State, lies between latitude $23^{\circ} 45'$ and $24^{\circ} 30'$ and longitude $77^{\circ} 15'$ and 78° , and is surrounded by the Gwalior State on the East, West and North and by the Bhopal State on the South. The Pirawa pargana lies between latitude 24° and $24^{\circ} 30'$ and longitude $75^{\circ} 45'$ and $76^{\circ} 15'$, and is surrounded by Indore on the North, Gwalior on the South and East and Jhalawar and Indore on the West.

The State has a total area of 2,553 square miles.

Physical Features.

3. Owing to the fact that the different parts of the State are separated by such distances the physical features vary considerably. The country round Tonk is flat, at a general elevation of about 900 feet, with outcrops of rocky hills and traversed by the Banas river. The soil is somewhat sandy and sub-soil water is limited. The two parganas of Nimbahera and Pirawa are on the northern edge of the Malwa plateau and the soil is chiefly black cotton. The Chhabra and Sironj parganas are geographically in Central India and the soil is mainly black cotton. They contain large tracts of jungle in which tigers, panthers, bears, sambhar and cheetal abound.

Climate and Rainfall.

4. The climate of Tonk is dry and healthy, though very hot in summer, temperatures of 115° and even 118° being not uncommon. In winter the temperature rarely falls below 40° . The climate of the other parganas is not so extreme.

The average rainfall in Tonk is 29 inches, Aligarh 24, Chhabra 44, Sironj 42, Pirawa 34, and Nimbahera 24 inches.

The rainfall at Tonk from 1st April 1934 to 31st March 1935 was 23.95 inches; Aligarh 30.18; Chhabra 50.1; Sironj 62.98; Pirawa 42.13 and Nimbahera 32.60.

Seasons and Crops.

5. The outturn of the Rabi crops was generally good but in pargana Sironj some damage was caused by frost.

The Kharif crop was damaged to some extent in Tonk and Aligarh owing to the rainfall being late after sowings and in Chhabra and Sironj by excessive rainfall, while it was good in Pirawa and Nimbahera parganas.

The price of food grains was steady, there being no remarkable variation as compared with last year.

6. The population of the State according to the Census of 1931 was 3,17,360 (1,64,401 males and 1,52,959 females) as compared with 2,87,898 in 1921. This amounted to an increase of 10%. Of the total population 2,62,675 or 82.76% are Hindus; 44,234 or 13.93% are Mohammadans; 10,451 or 3.29% other religions. Population.

7. The State has a coinage of its own, called "Chanwarshahi", which is current only in Tonk and Aligarh Parganas. It is a silver coin weighing 90 ruttis and containing 81 ruttis of silver, with small pieces and copper pice. A dearth of copper coins again occurred in the market and coins worth Rs. 10,000/— were minted at the Government Mint Calcutta. The issue of the new copper coins together with the issue of silver two anna pieces prepared locally eased the situation. Currency.

The exchange remained fairly steady throughout the year. The average rate of exchange was Rs. 134/—

8. The official year in Tonk begins on 1st November and ends on 31st October. Official Year.

9. The ordinary Revenue and Expenditure for the year, compared with the Budget and the actuals for 1341 Fasli, were as follows:— Annual Revenue and Expenditure.

Year.	Revenue.		Expenditure.
	Budget.	Actuals.	Budget.	Actuals.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1341 Fasli	21,63,622	21,68,108	19,54,441	20,34,175
1342 Fasli	23,13,856	21,76,283	20,84,946	20,15,325

Compared with the previous year, therefore, the ordinary Revenue showed an increase of Rs. 8,175 and expenditure a decrease of Rs. 18,850.

10. The most notable event of the year was the celebration of Their Majesties Silver Jubilee. The celebrations, which began throughout the State on 4th and ended on 8th May 1935, included a Darbar held by His Highness the Nawab Sahib Bahadur on 6th May, the entertainment of School children and the feeding of poor, the display of fire-works, illumination of the town, a State Dinner and the parade of the Army and the Police. A sum of Rs. 25,118/4/9 was collected and subscribed to the Silver Jubilee Fund. Notable Events.

The birthday of His Imperial Majesty was celebrated on June 3rd. As usual the day was observed as a public holiday with a Darbar and sports.
